FACTS

1. On May 17, 2005, Applicant mailed via USPS Express Mail a correspondence to the USPTO to Reopen Prosecution in Response to a BPAI Decision under 37 CFR §41.50(b) of March 17, 2005 (Attachments A-Paper as Filed, B-USPS & Post Card, C-USPS documentation).

2. The aforementioned two month time period was set according to 37 CFR §41.50(b) to reopen prosecution. Thus, Applicant mailed the Request to Reopen Prosecution on May 17, 2005. Therefore, Applicant submits that the correspondence was mailed in a timely manner.

3. During the week of July 3, 2005, Applicant had a teleconference with Examiner Sax who informed Applicant that the papers could not be located at the US Patent & Trademark Office. Applicant sent Examiner Sax two emails with copies of evidence on July 5, 2005 (Attachment D).

4. The USPTO could not locate the correspondence mailed May 17, 2005, therefore, Applicant submits this Petition to have the correspondence considered as if it were properly received on May 17, 2005.

ACTION REQUESTED

1. Applicant requests that the attached Request to Reopen Prosecution (Attachment A) be accorded a filing date of May 17, 2005.

2. Applicant requests entry of the amendments in the attached Request to Reopen Prosecution.

4 3. (currently amended) A graphical interactive method for permitting a 5 computer system to access a web site, the method comprising the steps of:

6 displaying a desktop icon on a desktop, said desktop icon associated
7 with an address of the web site;

8 launching a web browser application in response to a user of said
9 computer system selecting said desktop icon for execution, if said web browser 10 application is not currently executing; and

11 accessing the web site using said web browser application and said
12 address of the web site.

14 4. (previously presented) A graphical interactive method for permitting a 15 computer system to access a web site, said method comprising the steps of:

16 displaying a desktop icon on a desktop, said desktop icon associated
17 with a file containing information relating to the web site;

18 accessing the web site using an already executing web browser
19 application and said address for the web, in response to a user of said computer
20 system selecting said desktop icon for execution, wherein said web browser 21 application is separate from said file.

23 5. (previously presented) A graphical interactive computer system for 24 accessing a desired document located at a network location, comprising:

means for displaying a desktop icon on a desktop, said desktop icon associated with a file containing a network address corresponding to the network location;

means for enabling a user of the computer system to interactively select said desktop icon for execution;

means for launching a web browser application in response to the user selecting said desktop icon for execution, if said web browser application is not currently executing, wherein said application is separate from said file; and means for retrieving the desired document from the network location using said web browser application and said network address.

6. (previously presented) A graphical interactive method for permitting a first computer system to access a web site, said method comprising the steps of:

receiving a desktop icon associated with a file from a second computer system, said file containing an address corresponding to web site;

displaying the desktop icon on a desktop of the first computer system;

launching a web browser application in response to a user of the first computer system selecting said desktop icon for execution; and accessing the web site using said web browser application and said address corresponding to the web site.

7. (previously presented) The method of claim 6, wherein said receiving step comprises receiving an e-mail from the second computer system, said e-mail including said desktop icon.

2 8. (previously presented) The method of claim 6, wherein said receiving
3 step comprises receiving an internet message from the second computer system,
4 said internet message including said desktop icon.

6 9. (currently amended) One or more computer-readable media having
7 computer-readable instructions thereon which, when executed by a programmable
8 device, if a web browser application is not currently executing, launch ~~a~~ the web
9 browser application in response to a user of the programmable device selecting a 10 desktop icon on a desktop for execution, the desktop icon associated with an 11 address of a web site accessible by the web browser application.

13 10. (currently amended) A desktop icon for display on a desktop, said
14 desktop icon associated with a web site wherein selection of the desktop icon
15 launches a web browser application, if the web browser application is not 16 currently executing, and causes the web browser application to access the web site.

18 11. (currently amended) One or more computer-readable media having
19 computer-readable instructions thereon which, when executed by a programmable
20 device in response to selection of a desktop icon displayed on a desktop, the 21 desktop icon associated an address of a web site, launch a web browser
22 application, if the web browser application is not currently executing, the web
23 browser application capable of accessing the web site using the address.

24
25 12. (currently amended) A graphical interactive system comprising:

1 means for displaying a desktop icon on a desktop, said desktop icon
2 associated with an address of a web site;

3 means for launching a web browser application, if said web browser
4 application is not currently executing, in response to a user of said system

REMARKS

On March 17, 2005, a decision from the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (BPAI) was mailed. A two month time period was set according to 37 CFR §41.50(b) to reopen prosecution. Thus, Applicant mails this Request to Reopen Prosecution on May 17, 2005.

Per the decision, the BPAI reversed the Examiner's rejection of claims 3 through 12 and entered new grounds of rejection for claim 3 and 9-12 only. In response, to expedite allowance of the instant application, Applicant currently amends claims 3 and 9-12 while reserving the right to file one or more continuation applications directed to the rejected subject matter or other subject matter of the instant application. Applicant also adds new claims 13-16. Applicant respectfully submits that all claims are in condition for allowance.

Claims 3 and 9-12

The BPAI rejected claims 3 and 9-12 under 35 USC §103 as being obvious over NCSA Mosaic Version History (NCSA article) in view of Barnes, Guide to WINDOWS™ 3.1 (Barnes). As already mentioned, to expedite allowance of the instant application, Applicant amends claims 3 and 9-12 while reserving the right to file one or more continuation applications.

At pages 4 and 5, the BPAI decision recognizes that claims 4, 5 and 6 are narrower than in scope than claims 3 and 9-12. In particular, the BPAI decision states that claim 5 includes "launching a web browser application . . . if said web browser is not currently executing". Claims 3 and 9-12 are amended to include similar language. The NCSA article and Barnes do not address such situations nor

1 do they suggest a need for such logic. Applicant submits that claims 3 and 9-12 are
2 thus allowable over the NCSA article and Barnes.

4 New Claims 13-16

5 At pages 4 and 5, the BPAI decision recognizes that claims 4, 5 and 6 are 6 narrower than in scope than claims 3 and 9-12. In particular, the BPAI decision
7 states that claim 4 includes "using an already executing web browser". New claims
8 13-16 include similar language. The NCSA article and Barnes do not address such 9 situations nor do they suggest a need for such logic. Applicant submits that claims
10 13-16 are thus allowable over the NCSA article and Barnes.

11
12 Conclusion

Dear Examiner Sax,

Here's some more information. If we need to file a petition, we'll include this evidence. Perhaps you could let us know by Friday if the documents can be located, if not we'll just prepare the petition.

Sincerely,
Brian Pangrle
